PAUSE

REFLECT

So, friends, every day do something that won't compute. Love the Lord.
Love the world. Work for nothing.
Take all that you have and be poor.
Love someone who does not deserve it...

Invest in the millennium. Plant sequoias.
Say that your main crop is the forest
that you did not plant,
that you will not live to harvest.
Say that the leaves are harvested
when they have rotted into the mold.
Call that profit. Prophecy such returns.
Put your faith in the two inches of humus
that will build under the trees
every thousand years...

Go with your love to the fields.

Lie easy in the shade. Rest your head in her lap. Swear allegiance to what is nighest your thoughts.
As soon as the generals and the politicians
can predict the motions of your mind, lose it. Leave it as a sign to mark the false trail, the way you didn't go. Be like the fox
who makes more tracks than necessary,
some in the wrong direction.
Practice resurrection.

PRAY

What word or phrase from the poem speaks to you today?

Use the poem as inspiration for prayer. Do something today that "won't compute," something that is not "productive" in any way. Wander like the fox, love the world, or practice resurrection however you feel moved and in whatever way you are able.

You can also "practice resurrection" by using food scraps to grow more food. Items such as the end of a celery stalk or the core of romaine lettuce can be put in water to sprout more food.
